FEELING THE PUBLIC PULSE

J. P. Cummins, traveling advertising agent--a new official designation on the Union Pacific--is in Ogden, getting in touch with local conditions and inquiring as to how the great railroad might better serve its patrons.

Mr. Cummins is a young man with a responsibility usually accorded older heads, but he seems equal to the task and is making an excellent impression on his first trip over the road. He is under Garrit Ford, the general passenger traffic manager, who, soon after succeeding A. L. Lomax, was given the larger duties described by his latest title.

The Union Pacific, in its passenger department, evidently is receiving a hypodermic injection of new life.

SOCIETY

"EQUAL SUFFRAGE" DANCE.

The Elks have issued the following:

"Hello Bills: Our social festivities will open this season with some dancing at the Congress Dancing Academy, Wednesday, November 15, 1910, commencing at the usual hour and ending any unusual hour, but approximately when the Elks and Dears become dancingly incapable. Every Stag is expected and hereby enjoined to bring one dear and dance with every other one. Consequently there will be no wall flowers and all dead ones will be ossified promptly at 10 o'clock.

"There will be neither price, tax or tariff for being present. But this much goes: We mean business; every extra lady will cost you just one dollar, to go into the charity fund; the dollar not the lady. The expense of this excursion otherwise has been charged up to a lot of single, waiters Bills who will act as ushers, waiters and bell-hops.

"Some novelties terpsichorean have been imported from Missouri and Oklahoma specially for this affair. The Venus Glide and the Starless Waltz and sundry other innovations you have never participated in and never will again as the patents expire that night.

"Come out that evening, loosen up and be yourself again. Don't worry about the 'fixings' for this is to be an informal, 'happy go lucky crowd.' You're at liberty to hand the extra card enclosed to some good fellow for whom you can vouch and he, too, may bring one lady and no more.

"To conclude, No joking, brothers. We're boosting, prospering and growing rapidly, but the social side of our great order must not be neglected or overlooked for the sake of the ladies.

"Refreshments; Things fit for Bills and Billieses.

"Committee: C. O. DeWolf, W. J. Browning, W. J. Dalimore, W. D. W. Zeller, M. L. Higley."

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

The Historical society met with Mrs. Eichel last Saturday. The day being her birthday anniversary the club presented a book as a souvenir of the occasion. Mrs. Stevens sang in her sweet way, two selections, "Rockabye Baby Dear," and "Because I Love You, Dear." Miss Ruth Lewis played two piano selections that were much appreciated. After some business matters were disposed of, the members listened most attentively to Miss Seaman's talk on "Capital and Labor," a subject she was well prepared to handle, and her scholarly grasp of the great problem showed how carefully it had been investigated, and the grounds for widespread interest in and agitation of the subject. All expressed a desire to have Miss Seaman continue her talk at a future meeting.

After a cup of tea with the hostess, the club adjourned till two weeks hence when Mr. Beauregard will lecture in Steinway hall.

MRS. THOMAS ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. Joseph Thomas was the charming hostess to two unique card parties Thursday afternoon and evening, which were given at her home on Madison avenue. The invitations, bearing an engraved engine, were sent to the guests, indicating it was to be a "travelers' party." Scattered about the home were suit cases, trunks and traveling bags of all descriptions. The tables were in the form of a railroad ticket, bearing the inscription, "Good for one continuous passage, Ogden to San Francisco and return." Each table represented a station between Ogden and San Francisco. A real bell from an engine announced the finishing of the card games. The score cards were Southern Pacific folders.

The dining room was arranged with a lunch counter, where each guest was served in turn. Mrs. H. C. Wood, Mrs. E. T. Hulanicki, Miss Mae Scowcroft and Miss Cora Bassett assisted in serving the guests. The dining room was beautifully decorated with autumn flowers. The central decoration for the round table being an immense brass jardiniere filled with brown and yellow chrysanthemums, small chiny lace doilies on which rested silver candlesticks with red silk shades added to the attractiveness of the board.

Mrs. Wm. Allison delighted all with two beautifully rendered solos.

Mrs. Allison and Mrs. James H. De Vine received the prizes. The other guests of the afternoon were Mesdames J. S. Lewis, Wm. Eccles, G. H. Davis, R. S. Joyce, N. J. Thomas, A. V. McIntosh, S. W. PULLED HAIR IN JEALOUS RIVALRY

May Smith and Mrs. Dan Lindsey, the two women who engaged in a hair-pulling altercation on Twenty-fourth street last night, were arraigned in police court this morning and charged with disturbing the peace. A suspended sentence of twenty days was meted out to Mrs. Lindsey, who appeared to be the aggressor in the fiasco, and the other woman was allowed to go.

The trouble between the two women is one of long standing and has been aired before in police court. Mrs. Lindsey is said to be separated from her husband, yet is determined to retain her erstwhile claim to his affections. She considers the Smith woman in the light of a rival and a number of quarrels and fistie encounters have taken place when the women have been unfortunate enough to meet.

Judge J. D. Murphy gave both women warning not to engage in any further altercations and he placed the suspended sentence on the more aggressive of the two as a further precaution that she start no trouble in the future.

Only One U. S. Inspected Establishment in Ogden

Notwithstanding statements to the contrary by certain proprietors of local meat markets, there is no place in Ogden--neither meat market nor slaughter house nor abattoir--where government inspection is exercised, but at the establishment of the Ogden Packing and Provision Co. Here the government has three officials stationed to protect the public against diseased and unclean meats. All of the meats from this establishment carry the little, blue government inspection stamp and no meats are government inspected unless this stamp appears on them. Look for the stamp on the carcasses as you enter your meat market. You can easily tell. If your market does not handle U. S. Inspected meats go to some market where they do. It is always safer to trade where U. S. Inspected meats exclusively are handled.

FROM OGDEN TO PROMONTORY

Denny Smyth, C. E. Fisher and others made an automobile trip of 100 miles Thursday, leaving the city at about 9 o'clock in the morning and returning early in the afternoon. In the meantime the party spent considerable time looking over a herd of sheep.

The trip was made from Ogden to Promontory on the old line of the Southern Pacific where Mr. Smyth has a sheep camp. The members of the party do not think they exceeded the speed limit, and if they did, at times, they were outside the jurisdiction of the police force of Ogden and other cities along the route.

Mr. Smyth states that his sheep are in fairly good condition, the prospects for the winter not being discouraging if the weather continues fair, he states that the herds will be kept in the vicinity of Promontory for some time, otherwise they will soon be removed farther out on the winter ranges.

IN POLICE COURT

Mabel Harris, a colored woman, was given a suspended sentence of 20 days in police court this morning and instructed to leave the city at once or prepare to serve the sentence. The woman was arrested last night on a charge of vagrancy.

John Whalen and A. Bohn pleaded guilty to the charge of being unlawfully drunk and were fined $5 each. Little was assessed $5 for allowing his horse to stand on the street without hitching.

Leonard Taylor, charged with vagrancy, was given a straight sentence of ten days on the chain gang.

NEW MEXICO PROVIDES FOR CORPORATION COMMISSION

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 12--Only the articles on apportionment and on miscellaneous provisions remain undisposed of by the New Mexico constitutional convention and those are to be passed on Monday of next week, after which several days will be devoted to revising the entire constitution, preliminary to adjournment next Saturday. The convention worked until 1 o'clock this morning and disposed of the public lands question, adopting a liberal policy that will permit of the sale of the thirteen million acres of state lands, but holds school sections for 10 years unless they can be sold for $10 or more an acre.

Today the article on corporations was adopted. It creates an elective corporation commission of three members, with ample powers ranging from the chartering of new companies to making rates for common carriers. A unique provision provides for the immediate review by the state supreme court of all orders of the commission, whether an appeal is taken from the orders or not.

WALKERS ELUDE ARM OF THE LAW

SALT LAKE, Nov. 11--O. C. Nelson, one of the attorneys for Mrs. Althea Walker, Clarence Walker and Margaret Walker Smoot, in the case of Sarah A. Paul to break the will of David F. Walker, the estate being estimated at $1,500,000, has gone to San Francisco to consult attorneys in that city also engaged by the defense. He will return here Monday, with him.

It is now thought to be certain that the Walkers have gone to Canada, where they are probably safe from the clutches of the laws of the United States. They were seen last Monday passing through Walla Walla, Wash., and at that time they were thought to be bound for the Smoot home in Seneca. They should have arrived there Wednesday night at the latest, and their failure to get there has led the authorities to believe that they have gone to Canada. At Walla Walla they were about 225 miles from the Canadian border in a direct line, and there were several couriers which they might have taken. They might have gone direct to Spokane and then north, or to Seattle by way of North Yakima, and through Eagle pass along the line of the Northern Pacific railway line.

No Extradition for Contempt.

It is stated there is no way they could be returned to the United States from Canada on a citation for contempt of court. Under the treaty between the United States and Canada which provides for extradition, persons charged with forgery, murder, arson, embezzlement and obtaining money under false pretenses can be extradited. But apparently there is no way of extraditing on citation of contempt of court.

At any time that the Walkers come back to the United States, however, they could be served with the citation. The extradition treaty, between the United States and England, cited by a number of local attorneys as the only treaty existing between the two countries, gives the Walkers the full protection of the Canadian law.

The only way they could possibly be brought back, it is said, would be by filing criminal charges, such as embezzlement against them. This process would be a long one and would cost a large sum of money, entailing a hearing before the Canadian courts to determine the charge.

TO ABANDON FT. ASSINIBOINE.

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 11--Advises received in this city state that Fort Assiniboine, in the northern part of Montana, near Havre, will be abandoned when the Second United States Infantry is withdrawn for duty in the Philippines shortly.

TRADE REVIEW OF THE WEEK

NEW YORK, Nov. 11--Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Trade reports are as a whole more uniformly favorable than for some time. Distribution at retail has quite generally improved largely because of colder weather and the realization of bumper corn and oat crops, though some parts of the southwest and the south report that open weather has deterred improvement.

Holiday goods are being shipped in large volume, and traveling men are sending in better orders for spring goods.

The large crops are taken to mean lower prices for food stuffs, but this is not looked for immediately and some products, notably eggs and butter, are very high. At the same time collections have improved but payments are not yet all that they should be. Industrial operations show a little betterment.

A significant feature is that transactions in wool for export are profitable.

This week English buyers purchased large quantities in the Boston market.

Eastern shoe manufacturers are running two-thirds to three-fourths capacity.

OZONE OF A LIBRARY.

Chicago has installed an ozone apparatus for the sterilization of the air circulating in the public library. There is a supply of over 10,000 cubic feet a minute, but in spite of this the air in the reading room has not been fresh. Since the ozone apparatus was first put in last summer, however, tests show that besides antiseptic and germicidal qualities there has been a reduction of five percent in the humidity of the room--Twentyfourth Century Magazine.

THE HOBBLE SKIRT.

Pinochle Editor: What's the general effect of this new "hobble skirt"? Bridge Editor: Well, if the one I saw on one of the elevated loop platforms the other afternoon is a correct sample, the general effect is hard to describe, but the particular effect is to lower the waist line to a point just below the knees--Chicago Tribune.
